"Forge thy tongue on an anvil of truth, and what flies up, through it be but a spark, shall have weight."
—Pindar

Otis Sale, industrial agent for the Southern Pacific Railroad, was guest speaker for the Hondo Lions Club last week.

His assignment was to tell the group about attracting industry, and to outline the future so far as he could predict it. His charts showed that Medina County was in better shape, considering balanced industry, agriculture and manufacturing, than most of the counties surrounding San Antonio.

Perhaps his principal point was to tell the Lions that many communities try very hard to attract outside industrial development, but do not encourage business firms which are already established and trying to expand in their own midst. When a local business grows and adds a certain number to the payroll, it is the same as having a new firm move in and employ the same people.

Hondo has often been sent into ecstatic enthusiasm by the prospect of having a "new business" move in. Sometimes they employ three or four people and then fold up, leaving town with unpaid bills. At the same time, some of those who clamor for "new industry" go out of their way to avoid doing business with local industries that are furnishing employment.

Chapter and verse on this last point could be furnished by several local employers — including me.

One of the funniest things my wife noticed on our recent motor trip was a large sign by a new Alabama highway. The big letters said that it was a Governor George Wallace highway project, and the little letters mentioned that 90 per cent of the funds came from the Federal government.

The other 10 per cent, of course, came from Alabama taxpayers.

There is a simple and easy way to stop the store-wrecking and looting that seems to be prevalent in some of the nation's biggest cities.

It is the order given to soldiers who patrol hurricane ravaged areas, and other spots wrecked by great disasters.

They are told "shoot to kill" whenever they see somebody stealing property, and it is the only way some low characters seem to learn.

If the city police were told that whenever they saw adults breaking windows and looting the stores, they were to shoot first and then ask questions, the riots might stop suddenly.

The vast majority of citizens, both black and white, would surely approve of whatever force is needed to stop the senseless destruction.

States and cities which want to retain their own sovereignty should issue such orders, or they will have no complaint when the Federal government is forced to step in and take charge.

Surprised was the word for me when I was about to cross a street at the New York World's Fair, near the exhibit labeled "It's a Small World." Looking up to avoid being run over by a little train, I heard one of the passengers call my name.

It was M. L. Riley, looking right at me, not two feet away. He works in the Hondo depot, lives in Sabinal, and was at the fair on his vacation. The train passed by so fast we had no time to visit, but I'll never forget that surprise.

Another surprise was different. We visited the museum located on Harvard's campus in Cambridge, Massachusetts. It is so complete that to describe it would take several columns.

There was a display of corn, showing the various kinds that are grown around the world, and the samples had been collected by their scientists. Their experiments in combining various features of corn from many places, furnished the basic research that resulted in the development of hybrid seed corn. Any thinking farmer can tell you a story of what hybrid seed corn has meant to agriculture in recent years, and improvements are still being made.

To say the least, I had never connected seed corn with Harvard. Had you?

(Our editor, Mrs. Edna McDade, says it should have come from Cornell.)

CAMPAIGN INCLUDED THE DOGS Saturday at the LBJ birthday barbecue given by his friends in the Hill Country. This big black Schnauzer carried a sign around his neck that said "I'm for Him and Her and Them." The President has received much comment about his two dogs, called Him and Her.

LBJ Barbecue Attracts Crowd

There were several Medina County residents at the barbecue, to hear and see President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, and their running mates, Senator and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey.

The President spoke for several minutes in response to his birthday salutation from friends and neighbors, covering both national and international issues. He said the United States is going to do all it can to see that the Cuban people are free, adding "But I would remind you that Mr. Castro came to power before Mr. Kennedy came to power. He came to power in 1959. All these people that give you solutions to Cuba today — ask them where they were in 1959."

On Viet Nam, he said there are four alternatives: 1) to retreat and turn Viet Nam over to the Communists; 2) to enlarge the war; 3) to neutralize the country; 4) to follow the South Viet Nam government advice and military aid. He said the first two were unthinkable, and the third is impractical, because there is no country that can or will guarantee independent neutrality for South Viet Nam. Concerning the fourth course, he said "We have lost less than 200 men in the last several years, but to each of these... it is a war and a big war and we recognize it. But we have tried very carefully to restrain ourselves and not to enlarge the war."

With evident aim at his critics, he then said "But we do have some of our people, a rather hard core people, they make up a rather small minority. I think, of our total population. Some of them are frustrated, some of them are over-alarmed, some of them have their blood pressure worked up, some of them are excited and think our country is not doing at all well, and everything is being mismanaged, and we have a lot of worries, and a lot of troubles, a lot of headaches that we could do without."

President Johnson indicated that the United States had more military power than all the rest of the world combined, and that we were going to maintain that position.

Republicans Hold Workers Meeting

Medina County Republicans held a workers' meeting at City Park last Thursday evening. About 40 of the area's Republicans were present, according to County Chairman James E. Jordan.

Guest speaker was Jerry Kamprath of Austin, regional field worker for the Party. Also present was Axtell Byles of New Braunfels, Republican committeeman from the 19th Senatorial District.

Appointed to serve with Jordan were Mrs. C. Q. Vandergriff, of Devine, County Vice-Chairman. Chairmen from various precincts in Medina County are Cecil Messer, Prec. 10; V. C. Harrell and W. W. Parker, co-chairmen, Prec. 11; and Jerry L. Young, Prec. No. 19.

L. F. McCollum Is Chairman Of Conoco Board

Announcement was made in Houston this week of the election of L. F. McCollum as chief executive officer and chairman of the board of Continental Oil Company. Mr. McCollum, former president, was succeeded by Andrew W. Tarkington.

The McCollums are well known in Medina County where Mrs. McCollum is related to the Wilson family of Yancey.

Dr. Sanducky's Father Dies

The father of Dr. J. E. Sanducky of Hondo died in Bronte, Texas, Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1964. He had been wounded in an accident Tuesday while on a bird hunting trip.

Two Hondoans Killed In Weekend Accidents

Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder reported the accidental deaths of two Hondoans this past weekend. Killed early Saturday, about 3:30 a.m. was Pedro Flores, 57. According to the Sheriff, Armando Gonzales, 19, of 206 18th Street and Francisco B. Navarro Jr., 29, of 108 16th St., were driving a pickup in the 600 block of 18th Street on the morning of Saturday, August 29, 1964.

In a voluntary statement by both men to Sheriff Hitzfelder, they stated that Flores was lying in the street in front of his home, apparently asleep. Gonzales said he had seen something in the street but did not know what the car had run over until after the car had struck the object. He looked back and saw a man in the street. He kept going to the home of his father, Rudy Gonzales, who returned with the young men to the scene of the accident. When the elder Gonzales saw the man, he immediately went with the younger men to notify the Sheriff's office.

Sheriff Hitzfelder, with Deputy Ralph Chaney and Jesse Arcos went to investigate and found the body of Flores. Armando Gonzales and Francisco B. Navarro Jr. had failed to stop and render aid. Accordingly, charges of felony were filed against the two men. They were placed in the Medina County jail and later released on bond and bound over to the action of the Grand Jury.

TUESDAY IS ELECTION DAY

Hondo citizens are reminded that Tuesday, Sept. 8, is city election day. The fire station on Ave. K will be the only polling place.

Candidate for a seat on the Hondo City Council is A. D. Patterson, who is unopposed. If elected, he will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of former Councilman Milton J. Batot.

City Park Is Site Of Big Celebration

For the fourth consecutive year, Hondoans and visitors from out of town will gather in City Park, on Tarpley Road, to observe the national Labor Day with a hometown celebration known throughout Medina County as "Hondo Day."

Schools will be observing their first recognized holiday after a week of settling down to the year's routine. Families have found Hondo Day the answer to "Where can we go to have a good time and stay off the heavily traveled highways?"

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the all-day event is planned to provide entertainment, clean amusement, good fun and good food for every member of the family.

PROGRAM

City Park gates will open to the crowds at 10:30 a.m. By the time the first guests arrive, exhibits and booths will be set up and ready to go.

Although the list of exhibitors was incomplete Tuesday, the C of C office reported that exhibits on the grounds had been arranged for or were being planned by the Ranch Store, Mumme's Feed and Supply, Mumme's LH Truck Sales, Universal Rounding Corporation, DeMont's, Bingo Auto Parts, Medina Association for Exceptional Children, and several others.

A San Antonio artist will be on the grounds with a one-man showing of pictures and will make sketches of persons and area scenes.

For the children, there will be pony rides and a fish pond. Concession stands will offer various games, novelties, gift items, and refreshments.

BARBECUE

Serving of the beef barbecue dinner begins promptly at 12 noon. From 12:30 on, for a scheduled program period, the Hondo Owl Band will play music in the open air.

Plans have been made to provide an abundance of food for the several hundred persons who are expected to attend.

WORKERS

Heading the groups of men who have been working to insure the success of Hondo Day are these Chamber of Commerce members and directors:

General Chairman is Virgil Myers. He says that if all the committee chairmen and co-chairmen and all members of their committees show up as promised, the Park will have a big crowd just among the "aired hands".

In charge of the beef barbecue is Bby, Specialist 1st Class Lester Boehme and a selected crew. Bob Nester will do the meat cutting and diners will be assured of generous helpings.

Damon Westbrook and Raymond K o c h head the Pinto Bean Brigade.

President Ralph Jones has been entrusted with the feed-tail detail. Soft drinks will be dispensed by Jess Ledbetter. Other liquid refreshments will be handled by Pete Alcazer and Tino Cuellar.

For the big job of serving the crowds, Mike Ball is chairman of a sprightly committee that includes Frank Schveers, Dean Reed, Pop Holling, Harry Mueller Jr., Andy Patterson, Jim Rogers, Harry Nagel, Jack Hartung, John Henry Muennink, Eddie Wojko, Jerome Schulte G. P. Chapman, H. C. Mueller and Allan McGuffin, "and probably any other fellows Mike Ball can round up", says chairman Myers.

Ticket salesmen are Postmaster Harry Pilleman and Henry M. Finger.

Three members responsible for some of the games and entertainment features are Mrs. Jo Wood, Mrs. Winnie Braden and Richard Adams.

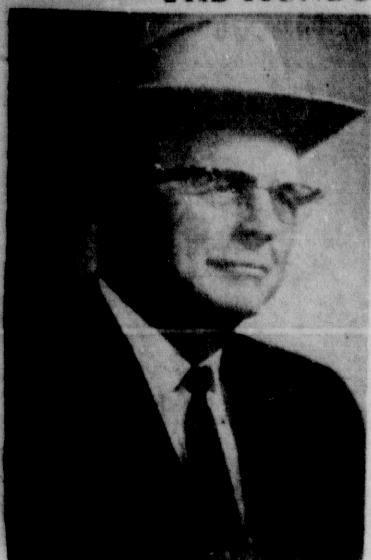

Even Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder has been drafted into service. His specially assigned duty will be to supervise the area parking.

C of C President Jones says the Hondo Day planners put so many persons to work that he hopes enough will be left over to come to City Park Monday and just enjoy themselves without any of the responsibility.

IN TRUE DRUM MAJOR FORM, Hondo High School's Sara Sadler is ready to lead her group of four Majorettes through all their high-stepping paces for the Owl's football season. They will make their first public appearance at the Hondo-Del Rio game Friday of this week at Barry Field.

INSCRIPTION

The following information appears in the inscription: Thomas J. Devine (1820-1890) was born in Nova Scotia. He came to Texas in 1843, and became a district judge in 1851. He served on the powerful Public Safety Committee of the Texas Secession Convention in 1861. He was named with Samuel A. Maverick and Philip N. Luckett to take possession of the Federal property in Texas. Backed by Colonel Ben McCulloch and 1,200 Minute Men, he forced the surrender of 3,000 troops with arms, ammunition, supplies, and $30,000 cash.

He served throughout the Civil War as one of two Confederate judges in Texas. He tried cases of persons accused of Union sympathies, dispositions of goods owned by Northern enemy, and maritime disputes arising from the coastal blockade and shipwrecks. In 1864 he was made special commissioner to settle disputes among foreign merchants handling cotton (the South's only medium of trade for vital supplies) across the Mexican boundary.

The war's end saw Devine leaving with other Texas leaders, hoping to continue the fight from Mexico. Upon his return, he became the only Southerner besides President Jefferson Davis to be twice indicted for treason. He was pardoned in June, 1867, by U. S. President Andrew Johnson. He served on the Texas Supreme Court and the Board of Regents of the University of Texas. The town of Devine was named for him in 1882.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

by Jerry June Berger

After a year's residence in Phoenix, Arizona, Ed "Sonny" Harllee and family have moved back to San Antonio, and his mother, Billie (Mrs. Amos) Harllee of Hondo says it is a toss-up to see which of the four is happiest over the return. (As a matter of fact, we know two Hondoans who are mighty pleased too.) The young Harllees originally moved to the western state on recommendation of a physician who thought nine year old Terri's asthmatic condition might improve. She occasionally had problems out there also, so they decided our southwest Texas area was just as favorable in the health situation, and much, much better in every other category.

Amy is teaching first graders in a new elementary school in San Antonio and Ed is an independent insurance agent. Amy says the Arizona schools are way behind ours, that their two daughters were at least a half grade ahead of their classmates when they moved out.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Neuman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fessler and Lorene returned last week from a trip to New York state where they visited their children and grandchildren. Donnie and Berta Neuman and two children. Donnie is in the armed services and working at a missile station in the northern part of the state.

They took advantage of being in the area to do some touring in New York City and at the World's Fair. They returned to the Lone Star State by a coastal route so that they could visit the Fessler's other daughter, Claudia, and her husband, stationed in Florida.

Hondo public schools opened with full day sessions Monday and apparently got right down to business.

Tuesday afternoon, Elaine (Mrs. Paul) Bybee inquired of Susie Hartung about how she was getting along. The bouncy second grader said, "Well we had to write real little instead of big and we had to write what day it is along with our name. They're just working us to death!"

She is the daughter of Frankie and Jack Hartung, and we predict she'll live over all that work.

This area is truly a sight-seer's paradise, but it seems to take an out-of-state visitor to inspire tours by localites. Such was the case with us part of last week and over the weekend when Bill's aunt from Florida came by for a visit.

San Antonio, of course, has an endless amount to see, but for her we managed the Spanish Governor's Palace, the Alamo, a ride on the miniature train through Brackenridge

Park, a tour of Sunken Gardens, the Hall of Horns and La Villita.

She thought she would like Mexican food and did enjoy it. Another day we took her on a jaunt to Piedras Negras so she could say she had been to Mexico, and again we had Mexican food. That night she went into San Antonio to visit some longtime friends and they had a surprise for her. They took her out for a Mexican dinner.

Now she probably thinks that's all we eat down here.

The highlight of her Texas visit was a trip to Stonewall to attend the barbecue and birthday celebration for President Lyndon B. Johnson, and to see him, his wife and vice-presidential candidate and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey. Up until Saturday the only other president she had seen was Teddy Roosevelt.

Before coming to Hondo, Aunt Min had toured Wyoming and had attended the buffalo barbecue honoring Mrs. Johnson. She observed that Lady Bird was wearing the same attractive red linen dress that she had worn up there.

For a few days, we have been making like a tourist to Texas, seeing and enjoying the surrounding sites. But we had one big advantage. We were sleeping in our own bed every night.

THIS IS 15-YEAR OLD JOE HABY of Rio Medina who is still in Santa Rosa Hospital for treatment of tetanus. His mother, Mrs. Alex Haby Jr., and his youngest sister, Rita who is just one year old, were in the Anvil Herald office last Friday to express their appreciation for the contributions that are being made to help defray the medical and hospital expenses for Joe. He is slowly improving, said his mother.

Miss Margaret Smith registered the 57 guests.

The serving table was adorned with an ecru lace cloth and an epergne centerpiece of pink mums. White individual heart cakes topped with pale blue flowers, green fruit punch, mints and salted nuts were served by Misses Carol Nester, Shirley Bendele, Janet Burrell, Dorothy Bourquin and Carl Reigal.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE IS UNNECESSARY RISK

You've seen and heard people play the numbers game with their blood pressure. One woman says, "Last time I went to the doctor my blood pressure was 160," and her friend replies, "Mine was 170." Like people trying to keep up with the Joneses — or surpass them. One aim of the Texas Heart Association and its local units is to help people understand what high blood pressure is, so that, rather than just about or ignore the condition, or worry needlessly, they will seek help before serious damage is done.

In the first place everyone should know that the doctor records blood pressure as two numbers: 160-100 or 170-95 for example. The larger number indicates the pressure exerted by the blood into the arteries. The lower number indicated the pressure in the arteries between heart beats. Both figures are important; both are considered separately and in combination by the doctor during his evaluation. Then too, while the height of the blood pressure is important, it is only one factor in hypertension — and other factors are important, too, according to specialists in the field.

One of these other factors is the length of time the pressure has remained elevated. Most important of all, perhaps, is the ability of the blood vessels to withstand the strain of a blood pressure that remains high over a long period of time.

If unchecked, persistent high blood pressure can cause harm in several ways. The heart must pump harder to force the blood through constricted arteries and, in the course of years, the added work may cause the heart to enlarge. The heart can function well with mild enlargement, but as enlargement progresses, the heart works less efficiently and heart failure may result.

COMPLICATIONS

Another serious consequence or complication of hypertension is that it accelerates hardening of the arteries, or atherosclerosis, the disease process underlying most heart attacks and strokes.

Much of what we now know about hypertension as a risk factor in heart attack has come from long-term population studies. In a 29-year research project being conducted in Framingham, Mass., for example, scientists have been following 5,000 men and women aged 30 to 59 who had no apparent heart disease when the project began in 1949-50. A review at the end of ten years showed that an individual's risk of heart attack varied according to the height of his or her blood pressure at the beginning of the study. The higher the blood pressure, the greater the likelihood of a heart attack within the ten-year period. And vice versa: the lower the blood pressure reading at the start of the study, the lower the heart attack risk.

The message is clear: reducing blood pressure when it is high should, hopefully, lessen the risk of heart attack.

Research has given our physicians new ways to diagnose and evaluate hypertension and new drugs to treat the condition. Between 1950 and 1962, the death rate among middle-aged men and women due to high blood pressure and related heart disease declined more than 50 per cent in this country. But there are still many Texans who could be helped, if only they had regular physical examinations and carefully followed their doctor's instructions. Are you one of them?

USDA Reports On Farmers Home Loans

ON FARMERS HOME

Loans totaling $742,988,000 were made by the Farmers Home Administration during fiscal 1964. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today. He said this represents an increase of 141 per cent above the 1959 level.

Approximately 1,440,000 people benefitted from Farmers Home Administration loan services during the year.

The funds advanced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture were used to strengthen the economic base of small rural communities and to improve the income of family farm operators.

The rural credit agency recorded its greatest expansion in a program that assists small communities in the construction of water distribution systems.

In this program, FHA advanced $34,007,000 to finance the construction of new water systems or the improvement of existing systems in 271 rural communities. The amount loaned was 131 per cent above last year's figures. Installation of the rural water systems will enable 36,000 families to enjoy an adequate and safe water supply for the first time.

Loans by the agency for the construction of individual housing units for senior citizens moved up to $6,032,000, an increase of 84 per cent over the previous 12 months. In addition, $1,167,000 was advanced for construction of rental units for senior citizens.

LABORER HOUSING

Farmers Home also advanced $884,000 to finance housing for domestic farm laborers.

Grants to poverty level rural residents for minor repairs and improvements of existing housing totaled $4,805,000.

A pilot rural renewal program was launched during the year to step up Farmers Home Administration assistance to depressed rural areas. Under the plan, the agency made rural renewal loans amounting to $350,000 to county development authorities in Florida and Arkansas.

Payments by Farmers Home Administration borrowers during 1964 totaled approximately $475,400,000 in principal and interest. This compares with payments of $420,500,000 last year.

Commenting on the agency's progress, Secretary Freeman pointed out that practically all of the loans made by Farmers Home Administration are from funds advanced by private lenders on an insured repayment basis and from collections of loans developed in previous years. The funds are used over and over again as borrowers enter and leave the program, he explained.

Loans outstanding on June 30 amounted to $2.3 billion, about 15 per cent more than at the same time in 1963.

Rural people benefitted during 1964 included the members of the 241,009 farm and rural families who received loans during the year or used credit advanced in prior years. Also included are the members of the 79,000 families who form the rural groups that use Farmers Home Administration credit. Most of the rural groups borrowed funds to develop rural community water systems.

FARM DEVELOPMENT, IMPROVEMENT

The bulk of the Farmers Home Administration funds were used to strengthen the position of the family farmer through operating and farm ownership loans. A total of 76,000 farmers borrowed $300,000,000 from the Farmers Home Administration in fiscal 1964 in operating loans to pay for equipment, feed, seed, livestock, for other farm and home operating needs, and to refinance chattel debts.

Farmers received $206,281,000 through 13,558 farm ownership loans to enlarge, develop, and buy family farms, and to refinance debts. Soil and water conservation loans to farmers totaled $4,402,000.

EMERGENCY LOANS

Emergency loans amounting to $50,198,000 were made to 15,300 farmers to assist them in maintaining normal farming operations following disasters such as droughts, floods and storms.

RURAL HOUSING

About 13,300 farmers and rural residents received loans from FHA totaling an estimated $124,434,000 to build or improve their own homes or essential farm buildings. Including the $8,103,000 advanced for senior citizen and farm labor housing, a total of $132,537,000 was advanced for rural housing.

GRAZING ASSOCIATION LOANS

Grazing associations were established in Montana, Colorado, Wyoming and Idaho in fiscal 1964 with the assistance of FHA totaling $3,268,000. These loans enabled groups of family-type ranchers to buy or lease large tracts of grazing land needed to strengthen their livestock operation.

RECREATION

Included in the operating and real estate loans to family farmers were 100 loans totaling $1,252,000 for the development of income-producing recreation facilities. In addition 63 groups of farm and rural residents borrowed $6,500,000 to develop community recreation areas.

FORESTRY

Approximately $1,194,000 of the funds advanced to family farmers in operating and real estate loans were used to develop farm forests.

SMALL WATERSHEDS

Loans to help organizations develop land and water resources in small watersheds totaled $4,432,000.

Farmers Home Administration offices serve all rural counties in the United States. Loans are made only to applicants who are unable to obtain credit from conventional lenders and are accompanied by technical assistance in farm and financial management.

FFA News

By John McNelly

Allan Heiman, Voc. Agri. III student at Hondo High School recently got into the hog business over night. His "chapter pig" farrowed 14 pigs in her first litter. One runt in the group was sold to be fed on a bottle; another pig was mashed the second or third day. At present the mother sow is feeding the even dozen pigs; they are also being creep-fed a supplement ration.

Allan is to be congratulated for the good management and feeding program that he has used on this hog project. Feed scientists tell us that the nutritional level of the sow during her gestation period is very important. Only one time, in 1947, did the Hondo Chapter gilt farrow a larger litter. In that case she farrowed 15 pigs. A large loafing pen, shade and fresh water have been the other parts of the hog management program followed by Allan.

It was almost a year ago that Allan received this "Chapter Gift" from Billy Mumme who had been passed down a gilt from the hogs Jimmy Wade had raised. This pig Chapter Gift Circle has been in operation since 1946. Billy Mumme has another litter of pigs at the present time from the sow he received from "Gift Circle". Billy has 10 pigs at present in this litter. We are told by the hog specialist that a sow must farrow and raise at least six pigs to meet the cost of her keep through the year.

A3c James L. Heyen

Airman Third Class James L. Heyen, son of Mrs. Leslie R. Heyen of 1111 Ave. "K", Hondo, has graduated from the technical training course for new members of the Air Force Medical Service at Greenville AFB, Miss.

Airman Heyen, who studied basic hospital procedures and emergency medical treatment, was selected for assignment to an Air Force Systems Command (AFSC) unit at Lackland AFB, Tex. His unit furnishes medical services in support of the AFSC mission of research, development and testing of Air Force planes and missile systems.

The airman is a graduate of Hondo High School.

Not All 18-Year Males Register For Draft

AUSTIN, Texas. — An estimated 6,000 to 8,000 18-year-old males, legally required to be registered under the draft law, are not registered in Texas currently.

That was the conclusion reached here Wednesday by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state director of Selective Service.

The estimate, Colonel Schwartz said, was based on 1946 male births in the state and rates of increase in the number of males at the 18-year-old level.

More than 45,000 males registered with Texas draft boards from January through July. The figure should be 51,000 to 53,000, Colonel Schwartz says, based on the best analysis of statistics at his disposal and current experience of local boards.

One Texas draft board began a special project of investigation through the school census as well as taking other special actions and doubled its current registration rate of 18-year-olds, the state draft director said. He indicated some other boards were considering similar action.

cents of the 1963-64 school year are closing out their Productive Project Records at the present time. Each year the Hondo Vocational Agriculture books are closed and transferred to a new book on September 1. Boys who are still in high school will receive credit for their past year's work when they submit their completed Project Record Book. Those who have animal feeding projects for the County Show completed these records soon after the show last February.

The Analysis sheet of the Project Record shows the rate of gain on the feeding project; the cost of making one pound of gain; and the profit or loss made on the enterprise. By studying of these records, we can determine when a boy has shown a good management practices on his feeding project. Any lamb that gains an average of 25 of a pound per day has had proper feeding and management. An accurate record of pounds of feed fed to the animal also shows the number of pounds of feed needed to make one pound of gain.

STOCK SHOW

The Medina County Fat Stock Show this year will be held on the second Monday and Tuesday of February instead of the first as it has in the past several years. The men who have been secured for judging of our County Stock Show will be at the Fort Worth Stock Show the first week in February. Boys and girls will now have another week to groom and fit their show animals.

Another new rule in the Medina County Stock Show for 1965 will be that each person may enter only one animal unit in the show. In past years they have been allowed to enter two animals and then sell one animal through the auction on the second day of the show. Last year there were more than 500 different entries. It was felt by the show management that there was a need to limit the number of entries to one animal.

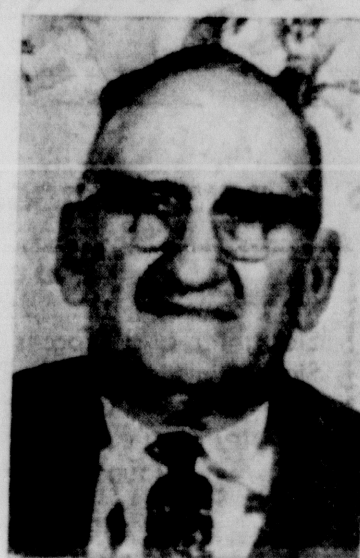

A boy might enter animals in the Commercial Feeding class, animals in one of the breeding classes and also one animal in the Fat Stock Show division. The Commercial Feeders and the Breeding Classes will not be sold through the Fat Stock Show auction.

Recent count of lambs being placed on feed for the Medina County Stock Show 1965 shows that we might have even a larger lamb class than last year. Several boys have placed two animals in the feed pen since they believe that the animal will eat better when there are two in the pen. The extra animal will be sold on the market or be used for a family barbecue.

CROP MEETING

An executive meeting of the local CROP committee was held in the office of the County Agent Monday night. CROP stands for Christian Rural Overseas Program. Under this program rural people have sent food or money to different areas of the world to help feed starving people. It is similar to the CARE program in that there are no strings attached as to who receives the food. The CROP organization was founded in 1947 following the close of the War in Europe. Several years ago, two boat loads of dairy heifers were sent to people in West Germany. The only requirement of this program was that the person who received the bred Holstein heifer would in turn give the first heifer calf produced by the foundation cow to another needy person. It might be said that "Heifer Circle" was started in West Germany with the Holstein breed heifers sent from South Texas.

AREA DEATHS

Mr. R. F. Wolff

R. F. WOLFF

Mr. Raymond Frank Wolff, 60, died at his home in D'Hanis at 9:30 p.m., on Sunday, August 23, 1964, of a coronary occlusion. The son of the late Frank X. and Theresa Weynand Wolff, he was born in D'Hanis on December 16, 1903.

On June 25, 1929, he was married to the former Miss Mary Lutz, who survives him. Other survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Adalene Marquart of Weisbaden, Germany and Mrs. Norma Rothe of D'Hanis; two sons, Harlan R. Wolff of Hondo and Ray Allan Wolff of D'Hanis; and ten grandchildren. Also, two brothers, Edwin Wolff, San Antonio, and Clarence Wolff, D'Hanis; and three sisters, Mrs. Angeline Brignac, Mrs. Alice Ziehr, and Mrs. Nora Ludwig, all of San Antonio. One brother, Hubert Wolff, preceded him in death.

Mr. Wolff had spent his entire life in D'Hanis. He attended the Seco school and was a member of the Catholic faith. He was a member of St. Joseph's Society; a charter member, past president and director of the D'Hanis Lions Club; the D'Hanis Volunteer Fire Department; and a director of the Medina County Wildlife Association.

He was also a past president and was serving as a director of the Winter Garden Water and Sewerage Association; and a member of the Texas Water and Sewerage Works Association. He had been chairman of the Medina County Water Control and Improvement District No. 2 since 1954 and he was Superintendent of the D'Hanis City Water Works.

For 20 years, Mr. Wolff served on the Board of Trustees of D'Hanis Public Schools, and as its president for 15 years. He was also a member of the Hermann Sons Lodge and the Medina County Farm Bureau. In his earlier years, he was a member of the old Highway 90 Baseball team.

Among Mr. Wolff's many business affiliations were his employment as head ginner for the Carle Cotton Gin in 1926 and later at the D'Hanis Brick and Tile Company. In 1933, he was promoted to superintendent of the brick plant, a position which he still held at the time of his death. He had designed a new tile machine which was recently constructed by a San Antonio manufacturer.

Mr. Wolff had taken part in all church and civic activities in his community for many years. His death is mourned by his many friends and business associates who share his family's grief.

Funeral services for Mr. Wolff were held on Wednesday, August 26, when a Requiem Mass was held at St. John's Catholic Church in Hondo, with the Rev. Patrick Sheridan as celebrant. Rosary was recited on the evening of August 25 at Horger Chapel. Interment was in the Holy Cross Cemetery, D'Hanis.

Pallbearers were Fred Ludwig Jr., Gerald Wolff, Albert Lutz, Louis Edward Lutz, Allen Ludwig, and August Lutz.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

Initial post-convention plans and strategy mapped by President Johnson for the November general election campaign will bear a "made in Texas" label. "Made in Austin, Texas" would be more specific, for much of it will originate here.

The President, his nomination as the Democratic party's standard bearer secured, hurried home to his ranch to rest up and so some thinking.

His visit attracted greater interest than any since his first as president, during the Christmas-New Year season.

With Vice Presidential Nominee Hubert Humphrey as his guest at the ranch, private talks inevitably turned to the battles ahead.

Gillespie County Democrats welcomed the President back to his home county with a Hill-Country-style birthday celebration and barbecue two days after his 56th birthday.

EDUCATION REPORT BEATS DEADLINE

The Texas Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has completed its report and recommendations for excellence in Texas colleges and universities.

The 64-page report, recommending doubling of higher education expenditures within the decade and placing of all institutions under a strong coordinating board, has been delivered to the governor.

RE-REDISTRICTING

Congressional redistricting hearings conducted by a Texas Legislative Council committee will wind up here next month.

Meetings already have been held in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Lubbock, and Tyler.

Committee chairman, Senator George Mottet of Chillicothe, said the group has "many suggestions" for redistricting.

Its big job now is to mold them together and come up with a reasonable plan or set of plans for legislative consideration, thus carving the state into 22 congressional districts as nearly as possible equal in population.

It was the greatest building month of the year and second highest month in nearly 18 years of records compiled by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

A whopping $140,000,000 of building was authorized in July. It represented a 21 per cent increase over June.

Bureau also reports that retail sales in the state during July rose two per cent over June. Normally there is a small decline between the two months.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Department of Commerce reported that the average income of Texans rose last year from $1,973 to $2,068.

DRAFT DODGE PENALTY

Noting that an estimated 6,000 to 8,000 18-year-old men have not conformed with the draft registration law, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Director of Selective Service, issued a reminder that 18-year-olds who wait more than five days after their 18th birthday to register with their local board are subject to penalty.

Maximum penalty for failure to comply with the draft law, Schwartz said, is five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both.

WATER NEWS
Latest word on construction of the $84,000,000 Amistad Dam on the Rio Grande and the Devil's River is that bids will be opened by U. S. and Mexican authorities working jointly on the project on November 6.

Both countries have been busy re-routing roads and railroad lines in the vicinity of the proposed dam to make way for construction.

Texas Water Commission will hold a hearing on the Colorado River Municipal Water Authority's application to build a dam at Robert Lee on the Colorado River on October 19 at 10 a.m.

Commission gave the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority permission to build a low-water dam near the mouth of the Guadalupe River in Calhoun County. The dam will have a rubber top, so it can be deflated when river flows are high — if that day ever comes again.

Continuing its "clean-up" of unused water rights in Texas, the Water Commission this week cancelled out reduced water rights in Kimble, Mills and Coleman Counties which dated back as far as 1904.

DROP-OUTS CRITICAL

Measuring the cost to the nation's economy of some 900,000 school drop-outs each year by the dollar, Col. S. Perry Brown, chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, said it adds up to millions of dollars each year.

Then he warned, "If effective action is not taken, I submit that we will pay ten-fold in re-training, as well as unemployment insurance, welfare costs, and other forms of dependency. Yet the greatest loss both economically and socially will be in wasted human resources."

Choir rehearsals are held on Wednesday of each week at 8 p.m. for adults. The Junior choir meets each Thursday afternoon at 4:15.

Observations Of A Country Boy

What is the future for farming? For all of us, this is an important question. Those of us who do not farm for a living know that the general prosperity of this area depends to a considerable extent on farming. We need to remember, too, that the social structure of our state and region is determined partly by the trends in farm living and economics.

Last month, at the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors, one session was devoted to a study of agriculture. Leader of the discussion was Walter Wills, a teacher at Southern Illinois University.

Here are a few of the important points Dr. Wills brought out in his discussion:

—Farm productivity has increased tremendously in recent years. Where the average yield of wheat was around 15 bushels per acre in the 1930's, it is now 54 bushels.

—It takes much less labor to produce this yield, as larger and more efficient machines have replaced human beings.

—Only 10 per cent of agriculture college students go back to the farm.

—Our most valuable resource is people. And people can be ruined easier than land.

—If we are going to continue the affluent society, we must have everyone producing to his greatest potentiality.

Here is the prospect for agriculture 15 or 20 years from now, as Walter Wills sees it:

—The day of the general farm is gone. We are going to have specialization.

—Agriculture is today facing the same kind of problems we faced in industry at the end of the 18th century.

—We are substituting capital for labor at a very high rate.

—Farmers are soon going to be buying feed, fertilizer and other supplies on a bid basis, with less dependence on brands. (Several of the larger McLean farmers are virtually buying fertilizer and feed on a bid basis now.)

—75 per cent to 80 per cent of input in farm products is purchased from off the farm.

—Whoever furnishes the credit is going to call the shots. Unless country bankers are more aggressive than they have been, your towns are going to be bypassed in favor of larger towns.

—A great many little towns are going to disappear. If yours doesn't, some neighboring towns will. The ones that survive will be the ones that provide the needed services.

Walter made the choice clear when he said:

"You and the bankers and other leaders are going to decide which towns will die and which will live."

For a community to survive, Walter said it needs:

—Aggressive leadership
—People with imagination
—Job opportunities, not just pleasant fellowship.

Beyond that, Walter stressed this important fact:

In spite of all that we do to provide local jobs, it will still be necessary for a great many of our young people to leave our small towns. We'd better see that they are prepared for where they go.

SECO PHILOSOPHER RECOMMENDS

Holding Both Conventions At Once

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a second look at the conventions in his letter this week.

Dear editor: After spending nearly two weeks watching both national political conventions this summer, a friend of mine said he's been studying the problems carefully and the way to eliminate all the argument and trouble over seating delegates and trying to write a platform that'll please the conservatives, the moderates, and the liberals is to operate three parties.

This has some merit, since to a conservative a moderate is a liberal and to a liberal a moderate is a conservative and to a moderate both ends are wrong, but it won't work.

It wouldn't make a good television show.

You get a convention hall full of people who all think alike and agree on everything, and there'd be nothing left for them to do but listen to the speeches, and anybody knows half the delegates can't bring themselves to listen half the time.

Television has long since discovered that keeping its cameras on the speaker's stand is the best way to lose its ratings, and the only way to keep things lively is to send its reporters around the hall with portable gear to get in on the squabbles, and if they can't find one, stir up something anyway.

I tell you, a football game where the spectators spent most of their time running up and down the aisles arguing over the eligibility of a third-string tackle and speculating on who the coach was going to send in next at quarterback, wouldn't last long as a national sport.

Actually, to make the best television show, two parties are enough and they both ought to hold their conventions at the same time in the same hall. Turn them loose and let the cameras grind. Things would get so popping then.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

Among the many matters which the upcoming 59th Legislature will likely be looking at is traffic safety. Some time ago Governor Connally pin-pointed four priority traffic safety needs, as follows:

1. An improved driver license law.
2. Additional highway patrolmen.
3. State aid for high school driver education.
4. Traffic courts of record.

State leaders particularly concerned with safety have endorsed these. Now comes the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs with notice that our organized womenfolk are going to push for these measures — especially Driver Education.

POWER OF WOMEN

It's pretty well known that the Legislature is responsive to the demands of an aroused public — and nobody denies the particular power of aroused women! So maybe we're going to see some real action in the area of traffic safety.

There is, of course, always the matter of money. I don't have the cost estimate on teaching ALL our beginning drivers through an approved Driver Education program, but it is probably considerable. I do recall that Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, told me last year that it would cost more than $2 million annually just to re-examine each of the 5 million currently licensed drivers at six year intervals.

FRIGHTFUL COST

On the other hand, according to figures sent me by the Federation of Women's Clubs, the economic loss from traffic accidents in Texas in 1963 alone was more than $432 million — or close to half a billion dollars! Moreover, 2,729 Texans were killed and 161,543 injured!

I think we owe it to ourselves to make a real effort to improve this gruesome and costly record. How much should the State spend? I don't know. You might ask the man who lives in total disability and dependence because of an accident someone else caused needlessly.

Or the man who lost his wife or child for the same reason.

ELECTION DAY

Tuesday, September 8, is election day again in Hondo. The election is held to elect a councilman to fill the vacancy created when Milton Batot resigned a couple of months ago. Only one person has filed for a spot on the council, Andy Patterson, an employee of Universal Rundle Corporation. Hondo's biggest permanent industry. Although he has no opposition, we should not hesitate to go to the polls and give him a vote of confidence anyway. So, don't forget, Tuesday, September 8th.

HONDO DAY

Monday, September 7 is Hondo Day, the fourth annual event sponsored by the Hondo Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for the Picnic Grounds with serving of beef barbecue to start at noon. See our ad in this issue for details.

FRESH PAINT

Delony's Jewelry Store has just received a fresh new coat of paint and we think Master James Delony did real well as a painter. Schueble Ford Company is another business that is undergoing extensive remodeling at this time. We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Wiemers have purchased the Hondo Washateria from Mrs. Welton Meyer. Our best wishes for continued success to the Wiemers. Rumors have it of some other changes are in the making but we will wait for further developments.

HUNTING LEASES

Copies of the 1964 hunting leases are now available at the C of C office, free for the asking. We have some 16-18 leases listed at this time.

FOOTBALL

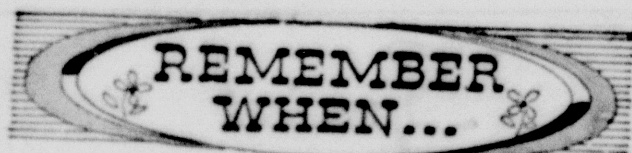

Friday night is the 1964 first football game at Barry Field. Y'all come!

Many Register Early At SWTJC

The early registration plan put into effect at Southwest Texas Junior College for the fall term is having a very successful beginning, according to R. C. Lynch, Registrar.

Over 200 students have already registered for the 64-65 school year. As some of the class sections are filled, new ones are opened according to the needs of the students.

Students who do not qualify for the early registration plan by having completed all necessary forms may register at the regular time. Sophomores will register the morning of September 8 and Freshmen will register the afternoon of September 8 and all day September 9.

18 Years Ago — 1946

The brand new T-model Hondo Owl football team is off to a fast start since its change from the single wing formation. Morning workouts are being done in shorts but uniforms are worn for the afternoon workouts. "Tiger in the Den" is one of the games being played in a pretty steady diet of pass defense, kick offs and punting.

25 Years Ago — 1944

Castroville will celebrate its Centennial on August 29. The city and St. Louis Parish will have been established 100 years. Up to 1911, the whole Medina Valley knew of only one Catholic Church, St. Louis at Castroville.

30 Years Ago — 1934

A mass meeting has been called to decide how Hondo shall observe and celebrate Armistice Day, November 11th. Hondo has observed it ever since that memorable day when the useless slaughter ceased on the battle fields of France.

40 Years Ago — 1924

Medina County's Second Annual Fair opened this week. A record attendance thronged the grounds all day and late into the night. The formal opening was preceded by a grand parade which formed near the school house and traversed the principal streets of the city to the fair grounds. There were many beautiful floats. The Fair has every prospect of a most successful occasion.

50 Years Ago — 1914

Among the topics to be discussed on the program of the Teacher's Institute this week are: "What is that power upon which we depend to make the complicated machinery of the modern school room go?" and "The school should inculcate in its pupils self-control". The Institute is held for the advancement of the cause of Education in Medina County.

Here in Hondo

M&M D. R. Hendrick and son of Waco were visitors this week in the home of Mrs. Hendrick's sister, the Clarence Prestons.

Cynthia Jennings, who has been a guest in the Ray Jennings home this summer, has returned to her home in Fort Worth.

Candace Krakow of Crystal City has returned to her home after a summer visit to her grandmother, Mrs. Walter Nester, and other relatives in Hondo.

Col. and Mrs. R. H. Sams of Virginia, their son, Richard and daughter, Beverly, are guests in the home of the N. C. Johnsons. Col. and Mrs. Sams and Beverly will leave the latter part of this week on their return trip, while Richard will stay with the Johnsons until time to enter Baylor where he will be a student this year.

Mrs. Vernon Grunewald and daughter Penny, accompanied by Mary Gilbert, have returned from a motor trip to Tucumcari, N. M., where they visited the Sidney Mercer family, stops were made at many points of interest.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

August 29, 1964

Dear Editor: Disappointment in politics is seldom fatal, but it isn't pleasant.

We saw a lion mount the podium in San Francisco and heard him roar out a challenge to the powers-that-be in the Grand Old Party. We saw a shining knight come forth to do battle with the professionals of the Eastern establishment. We heard an evangelist of the individual citizen struggling to throw off the shackles of collectivism. Following a straight path out of his book "Conscience of a Conservative," Goldwater told Rockefeller:

er, Scranton, Romney, and other old-line party members to get out of the party if they didn't like him or his politics. It was a great, an inspiring performance, even if he murdered the English language at times.

Now the lion has visited Hershey in Pennsylvania and he came forth purring like a chocolate-covered pussy cat: "That isn't what I meant, at all. I am misquoted. I'll listen to Daddy Ike and Uncle Dick before I snarl at Nikky. I'll do almost anything for the sake of party unity. I'll even make faces at the Ku Klux Klan (They'll vote for me, anyhow, because they think I don't like the niggers, although I really truly do)."

Once he wrote: "Socialism-through - Welfareism" poses a far greater danger to freedom than 'Socialism-through - Nationalization' precisely because it is more difficult to combat. Now what has happened to the fearless author of this sentence from the afore-mentioned "Conscience?"

Today he announced that his heart bleeds for the poor old Senior Citizens of the U. S. and he voted to raise the Social Security payments by 5 per cent. — Of course, tomorrow he will explain that he didn't mean it that way at all, that he was misquoted.

That finished it for me. I was quite taken with the earlier career of the Arizona Flash, even if he had a comic side to him, like most amateurs in any field do have, but I thought I detected a sincerity in his convictions, an integrity in his behavior, and a steadfastness to his ideal that would overcome any lack of experience. Now, I never want to hear him call anybody else a faker again.

Now everybody can let old Dr. Goldwater prescribe for him—he has something to suit everybody's taste. As for me, I'll vote for him when I put chewing tobacco into my ice cream.

GRISHAM'S SUPER-ETTE

To Our Friends:

It is with great reluctance that this letter must go to all our friends. Essie Mae and I are selling our business. This operation has been our pride and joy. You definitely have been a part of our lives. We have learned to love all of you, and please accept this word of gratitude from the bottom of our hearts. "WE THANK YOU," for having been that part of our life. Due to my (Buck) health condition the business must be passed on to someone else that can give it the attention and service that all of you are accustomed to.

The new owners are Jerome Decker and Glenn McWilliams, both home town boys. It is felt that this kind of change in ownership will not alter too many things in the course of operation of the store. Both men are young, well known in the community, and having families of their own are well versed in the needs and requirements of all other families. Essie Mae and I ask that you continue your most generous patronage with the new owners.

The store personnel will continue to remain the same. The store policy will not change. Mrs. Grisham will remain with the new owners in an advisory capacity.

Again, we wish to "THANK YOU" for being the finest people in the world "OUR FRIENDS."

Kindest personal regards,
Sincerely yours,
G. C. "Buck" Grisham

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

August 24, 1964

Mr. Berger,

While I will try not to be so indignant as the lady in your August 14 Letters to the Editor column, I, too, believe that you are partial to the Democratic party. I think it only fair that we Republicans have our say as well, and I have gone to considerable trouble to compose the following letter.

Isn't it pleasant for us here in Medina County to be able to pick up virtually any newspaper or magazine and be reminded that the President of the United States is from our own home state? And to hear that he and his family are hunting or fishing or barbecuing in the hill country just north of us? And naturally to assume that he has Texas' best interests at heart and therefore is the logical man for our vote in November? Such thinking comes so easily that we might overlook the fact that the Republican candidate is more nearly aligned with the traditional political philosophy of our locale.

In the past few months, Senator Barry M. Goldwater has received undue adverse criticism from the national press; this results from his giving a predominantly liberal press numerous opportunities to begin the semantic clashes that result from his comparative (for a politician) outspokenness and his reluctance to resort to circumlocution in stating his views.

However, the tags of "radical" and "extremist" fade rapidly upon a closer examination of his theories. Is it so radical to object to a citizen's losing up to 90 per cent of his earnings of taxes simply because he is industrious enough to be financially successful? Or to side with those who balk at "donating" to the "mandatory charity" of Social Security when they neither need nor want its alleged benefits? Or to sympathize with businessmen who do not wish their choice of clientele and employees to be legislated in Washington? Is he irresponsible in expressing his concern for the national defense when, as a major general in the Reserves, he has more experience and information concerning the subject at hand than any of his detractors? Is he extreme in being alarmed at the founding of a communist nation in the Gulf of Mexico? Or in wondering why we give our tax money to communist Indonesia and others of our enemies?

Texas' own Senator John G. Tower, a man of growing influence and a close ally of Goldwater's, has waxed long and loud at the incongruity of financing those who seek to "bury" us.

While Senator Goldwater has admittedly been something less than tactful, the skeletons in his political closet are at worst only verbal. Not so with LBJ and the Democrats.

Locally, one might ask why our own Congressman, Joe Kilgore, was unceremoniously eliminated from the Senate race after he had already resigned his seat in obvious preparation to run. Or why the Democrats have been unable to find a use for Hondo Air Base. Or how it happened to be closed to start with.

There are several convenient sources for those interested in learning more of the Goldwater conservative philosophy — his own best-sellers "Conscience of a Conservative" and "Why Not Victory?" and the soon-to-be-released "Where I Stand" are obvious choices.

As a member of the University of Texas Young Republicans Club (largest chapter in the nation, ironically), I had the pleasure of meeting the chief spokesman for the conservative intellectual movement, Mr. William F. Buckley, the most eloquent and articulate speaker I have ever heard, has set forth views similar to the Senator's in his "God and Man at Yale" and "Up from Liberalism." He and Brent Bozell, GOP aspirant from New England, also publish the political newsmagazine, "National Review". For some more personal references correspond with Senator Tower and Republican State Chairman Peter O'Donnell of Corpus Christi. I will also take the liberty of reminding you that Dr. Frank Rozell of Hondo has been named local director of George Bush's Senate campaign.

Concerning the Senate race, even those who find "All the Way With LBJ" just too catchy a slogan to ignore should not have conscience trouble about crossing party lines in order to be rid of the incumbent, Ralph Yarborough. His is the antithesis of Texas political thought and is a constant source of embarrassment to his geographical colleagues. Predictions have it that nearly all the two-thirds of a million Texans who supported radio magnate Gordon McLendon against Yarborough in the primary will "cross-over" in November to vote for Bush, as Medina County did for Ike in '52 and '56 and, to a lesser degree, for Nixon in '60.

The recent meeting at Hershey, Pa., revealed that Goldwater (and naturally, Bush) now has the full and unequivocal support of that very same President. We in Medina County might do well to "cross over" again.

Yours truly,
Pfc. W. T. Hardy, Jr.
15th Admin. Co. (Commo)
APO 24
San Francisco, Calif.

Editor's Note: We welcome letters to the editor which come from those who are familiar with Medina County. We feel it is in order to comment on a few items which appear to be based upon erroneous information.

"Predominantly liberal press" — this hardly squares with the fact that only 15 per cent of the nation's daily newspapers endorsed the late President Kennedy. A majority of newspapers have endorsed Republican candidates in every recent national election. . . this year, most have not yet made an endorsement. We shall see.

About "Social Security" — since the Republican convention, Senator Goldwater voted to increase social security payments, and has denied wanting to abolish social security.

"More experience and information concerning the subject (national defense) than any of his detractors." It might be possible to find an argument there with the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, Rear Admiral Robert Moore, (in charge of the Tonkin Bay carriers) and a few others who have disagreed with the Senator, who is not on active duty, but merely in the reserve.

"Founding of a communist nation in the Gulf of Mexico." Yes, this was done, but while the Republicans were in office.

"Hondo Air Base." It was closed, if I remember rightly, during the Republican administration. The repair contracts now in effect out there might be considered a use for it, and modern jets are using it for landing practice.

Thanks for reminding me of Dr. Rozell's appointment. We had a news story in The Anvil Herald about that several weeks ago.

As to being "partial to the Democratic party." We carry news of both parties, whenever they create news that involves this area, or people from this area. You may not recall it, but in 1952 we thought Eisenhower was best. Whenever they put up the best set of candidates, this newspaper will give them careful consideration.

This year, it appears to us that the Republicans have struck out. Thank you for taking the time to offer us your thoughts, and good luck at APO 24.

P. E. TEACHER IS INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Injured in an automobile accident last week, Miss Helen Hill of Carrizo Springs is convalescing in Baptist Memorial Hospital, San Antonio.

Miss Hill is on the faculty of Hondo High School where she teaches Physical Education. In her absence, classes are being conducted by Mrs. Gordon (Nikki) Braden.

The accident happened when the car which Miss Hill was driving between Hondo and Uvalde hit a concrete bridge. Her nose was broken in two places but she is much improved and is expected to return to her teaching duties the coming week.

Miss Hill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hill of Carrizo Springs.

GOLF NEWS

The third annual Hondo Invitational Labor Day Golf Tournament will get under way with qualifying rounds this Friday.

Match play starts with six flights on Saturday and will continue through Sunday and Monday.

Local Pro Charles Finger expects 96 golfers to fill the six flights which will give the tournament its best and most successful field ever. The affair will bring in about 80 out-of-town golfers for four days of golf.

NAME PLAYERS

The best name player of the field will be 18-year-old Hal Underwood of Del Rio, the 1963 State Junior Champion. Underwood was defeated in the Quarter Finals in this year's State Junior play-off. However, Underwood did win the State AAAA High School championship in 64.

The Arrando brothers of Kerrville are also name championship players who will be contenders. Johnny Johnson, one of the better amateurs in the state is also a possible entrant. Johnson is currently stationed at Conally AFB in Waco. Par will be expected to take a beating from such top-notch players.

The winner of each flight will win a $150 set of irons. Each runner-up gets a $100 set of woods. Other prizes will also be awarded.

This past weekend found the wind-up of the regular Winter-garden Sweepstakes in the newly opened Carrizo Springs golf course. Carrizo Springs can well be proud of this excellent course — one of the most difficult to score well on in this area. Even with a large field, the best any golfer could do was a 4 over par 76 by Uvalde's Lynn Spurgeons, which established a course record.

A Bishop Looks at Life

by BISHOP E. H. JONES of The Episcopal Church

Can You Adapt?
Much of life is a matter of adjustment or adaptation. Most of us can remember the first day we went to school, and what a frightening experience it was. The same is true of going off to college. One test of a successful family life is whether it prepares children for such new situations.

All through adult life we are called upon for the same flexibility in the midst of changing circumstances. We take our first job, or we move from one job to another. We change our place of residence, and have to make new friends. We are faced with unexpected illness, sorrow, or separation from those we have loved and depended upon. One of the major experiences of adjustment comes with retirement. (This is true for the wife as well as the husband, as it has been pointed out it means for her half as much income and twice as much husband!)

Many people today find it hard to adapt themselves to the new kind of world in which we are living with its inevitable complexity. They become unhappy, even bitter and resentful, as they see kaleidoscopic new facts and new problems in the world around them. They cannot mentally digest the constant additions in scientific knowledge and technological developments, the new forms of nuclear energy with their promise and their danger, the new ideas and terms in the field of education, the involvement of our nation in every crisis that occurs in even the most distant part of the globe.

There are many secrets that will help us if we accept the fact that these changes will probably increase in number and frequency; they will not go away. One of the most important secrets is to see clearly the realities in life which do not change. People with religious faith are generally more flexible, more capable of adjustment and adaptation, because they know their God does not change. He is the same yesterday, today, and forever.

"Of old hast thou laid the foundations of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands. They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment; as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed: But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end." (Psalm 102, verses 25-27)

Garden Club Is Commended For Program

Mrs. Pan Oeffinger, president of the Hondo Garden Club, has received the following letter from a resident of Uvalde, commending the work of the local club in beautifying Hondo:

752 North High Uvalde, Texas
August 29, 1964

Dear Mrs. Oeffinger,
On my trip over the state of Texas this summer I heard many compliments on your Garden Club and its project. You and your members have done a grand job there in Hondo and are truly putting that city "on the map", so to speak, for other Texans and tourists that pass your way.

Now it is not only the Hondo Owls that give Hondo a great name, but the Hondo Garden Club as well. It just takes women to do the beautiful job.

So, let me say "Thanks a million" for a job well done and congratulations on your State award.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Mary E. Dimmitt

HEREFORD

Deaf Smith County's sugar beet fields of 27,250 acres look mighty good. Some growers are calling this area's crop the best in the nation. It might well be the best crop of its kind ever produced in the Holly area. Agricultural men agree that prospects for a big year are bright. Carrots are just coming onto the market. Irish potatoes turned out well with prices holding between $3 and $4.25. Onions are still being harvested. Lettuce will be the next vegetable offered and the outlook for a first-class crop is good.

NAVASOTA

Although no encephalitis cases have been reported in Grimes County, precautionary measures have been taken and the city of Navasota has been fogged at least one time. More rounds will follow to spread mosquito insecticide for the next week or ten days.

FLORESVILLE

"Court of Autumn Nocturne" is the theme selected for the 1964 Peanut Festival in Floresville. Date of the Queen's coronation has been set as Friday, October 9. Advance tickets will be placed on sale in the near future.

DEVINE

On Sept. 8, the Postmaster General's Citation for Excellence will be presented to the Devine post office for outstanding maintenance and care of its postal facilities. Devine is among the communities whose postal facilities have received superior rating in rigid inspections by regional postal officials.

BANDERA

In May of 1964, the Area VII Future Farmers of America will hold their first Area Wool and Mohair Judging Contest. May 15 is the tentative date set and Bandera is the location.

I'M HERE!

Thomas Sebastian Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lutz, was born on July 31, 1964 at Medina Memorial Hospital. He was baptized in Holy Cross Catholic Church by the Rev. It now appears that Frio County will not get a new county jail and improvements to the courthouse as planned. In March, 1963, a bond issue was voted for that purpose. However, the application filed with the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency was not approved. It was explained that cities were given priority on sewage and water facilities and that funds were not presently available for the building program.

CRYSTAL CITY

On September 18, an educational meeting will be held in Crystal City for all farmers interested in growing sugar beets. This is part of a program being carried out for members of a 13-county organization recently formed to study the feasibility of growing sugar beets as a commercial crop for possible future industry in the area.

NEW BRAUNFELS

The new Canyon Reservoir may be one of the first lakes in Texas to be stocked with walleyed pike, according to an announcement by Marion Toole, co-ordinator for inland fisheries for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The project will depend on the results of an experiment made earlier to introduce the fighting walleyes at the Possum Kingdom fish hatchery.

Forty Jackson County farmers produced an average of 3,213 pounds of maize from approximately 4,900 acres. Two farmers in the group did not fertilize their crops and their acre yield was about 2,200 pounds of grain. FALFURRIAS

The Brooks County ASC has announced September 25 as the deadline for destroying cotton stalks. Drought conditions in this area have caused producers to take advantage of the early harvest and many have destroyed the stalks early, just after harvest. The ASC says this can provide a real boost to insect control as it is one of the most effective and economic methods of controlling the pink bollworm and boll weevil in cotton.

SAN ANGELO

Extended hot dry weather throughout West Texas has temporarily stopped the normal reproduction of antelope, deer, quail, and other species of wildlife populations, according to a field representative for the Parks and Wildlife Department. This year in this section of the State, only a few of the hardier species have had the stamina and strength to bear young. If late summer rains fall, this will provide a few green sprouts which might provide just enough nourishment for the late summer hatches of quail and mourning doves.

AUSTIN

Huntsville State Park Lake was stocked with 10,000 blue catfish fingerlings by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. A fishing survey indicated that the lake had relatively few catfish in it. The fingerlings which were about four inches long at stocking time, may reach 30 or 40 pounds in a few years.
